Maurice Henderson sworn in as 5th District School Board Representative

It's official. Maurice A. Henderson, a NASA exhibits and education outreach coordinator, now represents the 5th District on the Richmond City School Board. Henderson was sworn in Feb. 2 by Federal Judge Roger L. Gregory, United States Court of Appeals, 4th Circuit.

Henderson, who holds a master's of science in engineering from the University of Pennsylvania, will complete the unexpired term of Betsy Carr, who resigned from the Board after being elected to the Virginia General Assembly last November.

During his tenure with NASA, Henderson has been involved in the reopening and expansion of the center's educational outreach mission, including the development of new programs that feature the Goddard Space Flight Center and Hubble Space Telescope traveling exhibit.

Henderson has been appointed to serve on the School Board until a special election is held this November.
